Heritage library renovated at Rs 1.6 crore opened

TNN | Updated: Jan 31, 2019, 12:57 IST

PUDUCHERRY: Chief minister V Narayanasamy on Wednesday declared open the historic Romain Rolland library, which was renovated at Rs 1.66 crore, in the presence of revenue minister Malladi Krishna Rao and others.

National mission of libraries, Kolkata, granted the fund for renovating the library and Rs 76.04 lakh for renovating Dr S R Ranganathan government public library at Karaikal.

In addition to Puducherry government's share of Rs 60.63 lakh for the renovation, the government fixed the Romain Rolland library with air-conditioners, CCTV cameras, fire-fighting equipment and new electrical fittings and network at an additional cost of Rs 60 lakh. The library has barcode scanners and printers.

E-granthalaya software has been installed in the library and to help staff utilize it, the government has proposed to hold workshops and training programmes on the software in association with the National informatics centre, Union electronics and information technology ministry, from March 14 to 16. The renovated library includes a section for those visually challenged with Braille features in computers, keyboards, readers and printers.

Established as Bibliotheque Publique by the French in 1927, the library has a collection of 4.02 lakh of books in English, Tamil, French, Hindi, Malayalam and Telugu languages. The library has 49,814 members and an average of 1,000 people visit the library every day.

The library has 13 sections, including the latest career guidance section established a year ago to help students prepare for competitive examinations and a children's section with 49,814 books.

Patna University library: Many posts still vacant

TNN | Aug 1, 2019, 10:23 AM IST

PATNA: Will Patna University (PU) library, which is going to hold its centenary celebrations on a grand scale with vice-president M Venkiah Naidu as the chief guest on Sunday, be able to fill up all its vacant sanctioned posts soon? This question is being discussed by the regular visitors to this library, who have been witness to its hey days when it hummed with academic activities.

As things stand today, almost all the sanctioned posts of librarians, assistant librarians, classifiers, cataloguers and professional assistants are lying vacant for the past two decades. The situation has come to such a pass that this library, having more than 3 lakh books and periodicals, does not have a full-time librarian and is being managed by a teacher. There are seven posts of assistant librarians, but not even a single regularly appointed assistant library is working, at present. A teacher of physics is presently working as the assistant librarian.

PU sources said there are as many as 47 sanctioned posts of library personnel, but only 16, including two teachers serving on ad hoc basis, are rendering their services. Most of them are working on contract basis as their services have been outsourced by some agency.

The libraries of almost all the postgraduate departments are virtually locked for the past several years for want of staff. While many departments do not have any sanctioned post of a librarian to manage their well-equipped libraries, others have failed to fill up the vacant posts of librarians for years together, causing immense hardship to the students and faculty members of the departments. Books worth crores of rupees have been purchased by different departments with the grants sanctioned by the UGC during different plan periods, but they are simply stacked in the departmental libraries, allowing little access to the users.

PU geology department library has not got a single trained library staff for the past several years. A class III employee of the department is somehow managing the library. "A few years back the department had introduced the much-publicized 'e-granthalaya' scheme, but it lies defunct in absence of any trained staff," said department head Ramesh Shukla. There are more than 5,000 rare manuscripts in different languages in the library, but they have become so fragile that a researcher cannot easily make any use of them. The manuscripts include 1,530 in Persian, 440 in Urdu, 316 in Arabic and 2,547 in Sanskrit, Maithili and Hindi. All these manuscripts were made available to the library by different researchers and scholars during the last 100 years.

TS Govt libraries set to go digital

Hans News Service | 20 Nov 2019 11:49 PM IST

HIGHLIGHTS All the rare collections would be scanned and stored in the digital library Rs 3 cr for Secunderabad library and Rs 9 lakh for Khairatabad library sanctioned Around 20 computers would be set up in Secunderabad library and 15 computers at Khairatabad library

Hyderabad: With a view to providing readers easy access to their books and rare collections, the Khairatabad and the Secunderabad libraries would be going digital and turn into e-libraries soon. Speaking to The Hans India, K Prasanna, the chairperson of City GranthalayaSamstha, said, "Out of 82 Granthalayas in the city, we have planned to modernise two libraries by providing digital sections. Apart from the City Central Library, Ashok Nagar, both the libraries are among the oldest. The libraries would digitalise rare collection of books by using library management software, e- Granthalaya and it would be handled by our librarians."

For Secunderabad library, Rs 3 cr and for Khairatabad library Rs 9 lakh funds have been sanctioned from MLA and MP funds. Apart from children, students, senior citizens and research scholars regularly visit these libraries. Prasanna further said the old building of the Hyderabad City GranthalayaSamstha (branch library), Khairatabad, was getting renovated.

The second floor of the building would be converted into digital section. About 15 computers would be installed in the digital section where readers can easily browse and read books online by paying a minimal charge of Rs 5. "As Secunderabad library is very congested, we have started construction of a new building and it would be ready by November-end. Around 20 computers would be installed at this library," says Ayodhya Reddy, the in-charge librarian at Secunderabad Library.
